There may be no basement but this property offers more above ground square footage than most in the area. A nice sunroom is located off of the dining room and offers a peaceful retreat. This home offers a versatile den that could potentially be used as an extra bedroom, an office, storage space, or mudroom as it is located next to the garage entrance. Conveniently the laundry is located on the main level as soon as you walk in from the garage. The attached single car garage adds convenience and a safe place to store your things. This property is worth viewing in person to see its potential and envision turning it into your own.
